

I cannot believe that the FCC will allow Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry "documentary" days before the election. It is an outrage, and is a serious abuse by big media with political interest to use the airways for political purpose and as such is a direct threat to the democratic process. People tend to believe what media says, and by usurping regular programming, this appears to be NEWS, but is actually POLITICAL OPINION, supporting. If this is allowed, an Anti-Bush documentary should be supported of equal length--both will obviously be "points of view" and as such would support the democratic process.

Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest, not private or political interest groups. This is an insult to our intelligence and to democracy. I urge the FCC to step in, and rectify this hideous partisan effort to sabotage election fair play.

Sharon Daniels
Professor of Music
Director of Opera Programs
Boston University